IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Rainbow Society of Alberta

Is Moving to a New Home in The Jerry Forbes Centre for Community Spirit

Edmonton, Alberta (June 21, 2018) - The Rainbow Society of Alberta is pleased to announce they will be moving their Head Office to The Jerry Forbes Centre for Community Spirit effective October 1, 2018. The new centre is located in North East Edmonton at 12122-68 Street.

As the future home for over 20 vital non-profit organizations, the Jerry Forbes Centre will facilitate collaborative business practices enabling The Rainbow Society to share resources and talents for enhanced program delivery and promote community spirit and volunteerism. The multi-tenant Centre will provide healthy, affordable, and vibrant work spaces where The Rainbow Society and other charitable organizations will have access to state of the art technology, IT support, free parking, and versatile spaces to be used for seminars, training sessions, and events.

"The Jerry Forbes Centre is an incredible opportunity for The Rainbow Society of Alberta to work in a collaborative setting with other non-profit organizations. Relocating our office there will enhance our ability to reduce expenses and focus on increased fundraising for our wish-granting mandate, which is critical to achieving long-term sustainability in Alberta's challenging economic environment." – David Sharko, President / Legal Director, The Rainbow Society of Alberta.

About

The Rainbow Society of Alberta - Giving the gift of hope by granting wishes for children in Alberta diagnosed with a severe chronic or life-threatening medical illness. We differ from other wish granting groups in that the funds raised will grant wishes for children from right here in Alberta. Further, our mandate allows us to include children diagnosed with a severe chronic illness, in addition to those diagnosed with a life-threatening illness. Since 1986, The Rainbow Society has granted 1043 wishes for children from 163 communities in Alberta.
